

An Approach. A Culture. A Feeling.

You can count on our team of Home Care professionals to deliver above and beyond “traditional home care”. Unapologetically determined, our team lives the spirit of “The Assisting Hands Way” in our beliefs and actions in order to provide the highest level of home care available today.

Our company culture represents exceptional standards and practices in today’s ever-changing care-giving industry. Our Make it Happen and Do What it Takes team approach to coordination and care is unparalleled and is fueled by our dedicated mission.

“The Assisting Hands Way” is all about the experiences of care- not just services. Our Caregivers are “heroes in disguise,” meeting people where they are at and using their gifts of compassion and skill to attend to and engage in the details that matter. Because we know that the little things are the big things.

It’s a sense of knowing that you have support from a care team working with you to take care of your family. It’s the reassuring feeling that those special and intangible nuances to care will be provided each and every time. It’s knowing that This Is It and No One Can Do It Better. It’s what you can’t put a price tag on. More than a way of doing, it’s a way of being. It’s how we deliver the care that we promise you.

Our Difference

Our staff all has home care experience from the client-side. We have been in our client’s shoes, whether we were securing care for our loved ones or the one receiving care, we know exactly what you are going through and can answer any question you may have with empathy and true understanding.

We are accredited by the National Institute for Homecare Accreditation (NIHCA) and regularly receive satisfaction scores above the national average.

Gerry Patrizio is the local owner. He is a Certified Dementia Practitioner and Certified Senior Advisor who received his MBA from Wagner College.

SERVING THOSE WHO SERVED US

Veteran Services

Assisting Hands is a proud partner with the Department of Veterans Affairs as a provider in the Community Care Network (CCN).

The VA CCN provides supportive services to help chronically ill or disabled eligible Veterans of any age remain in their home. These services are referred to as home care and are considered extended care services prescribed by and under the direction of a VA physician.

Veterans may be eligible for professional home care from a VA-approved agency wherever they call home. This program is for Veterans who need personal care services and help with activities of daily living. This program is also for Veterans who are isolated, or their main caregiver is experiencing burden.

A Homemaker/Home Health Aide is a trained person who can come to a Veteran's home and help the Veteran take care of themselves and their daily activities. Homemakers/Home Health Aides are not nurses, but they are supervised by a registered nurse who will help assess the Veteran's daily living needs.

Services are based on your assessed needs. To qualify, Veterans must get a referral for services from their VA doctor at their local VA clinic.

Examples of daily activities you may be able to receive help with include:

- Personal care & grooming
- Getting dressed
- Bathing
- Using the bathroom
- Moving from one place to another
- Getting to/from appointments
- Meal Prep & Eating

Our Caregivers

Assisting Hands® caregivers are the foundation of our in-home care services. Our caregivers share our core values of caring, compassion, empathy and dependability and a passion for helping others.

Our professional caregivers are all certified by the New Jersey Board of Nursing after completing a comprehensive education. Then they are continually trained and supervised by our on-staff Director of Nursing. They are bonded, insured and background checked.
